North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. Through Jan. 15, 2017 - "Rolling Sculpture: Art Deco Cars from the 1930s and '40s," featuring 14 cars and three motorcycles embodying the design characteristics of the art deco movement. The exhibition was guest curated by renowned automotive journalist Ken Gross. The art deco period—from the 1920s to 1940s—is known for blending modern decorative arts and industrial design and is today synonymous with luxury and glamour. The cars from this era are no exception. While today manufacturers strive for economy and efficiency, during the art deco period elegance reigned supreme. With bold, sensuous shapes, hand-crafted details, and luxurious finishes, the cars and motorcycles in Rolling Sculpture: Art Deco Cars from the 1930s and '40s provide stunning examples of car design at its peak. Through Mar. 5 - "Reunited: Francescuccio Ghissi's St. John Altarpiece," the first time in more than 100 years that the altarpiece's eight known panels—and one recreated missing panel—can be seen and appreciated as one magnificent work of art. During the 19th or early 20th century, Ghissi's St. John Altarpiece was dismantled and sawed apart, and its nine panels were sold separately to art dealers and collectors. Three panels are today in the NCMA's collection; one panel is in the Portland Art Museum's collection; three are in the Metropolitan Museum of Art; and the central Crucifixion panel is at the Art Institute of Chicago. After more than a century of separation, the individual panels travel to the NCMA to be reunited in an exhibition that retells the story of this Renaissance masterwork. Video Gallery, Through Feb. 5, 2017 - "William Noland: Dream Rooms". The exhibit examines our wired world of the 21st century. Individuals are seen in coffee shops, wholly absorbed, their trancelike states brought on primarily through an intense engagement with the alternate reality presented by laptops and smart phones. They are immersed in an interior world of concentration and at times of pleasure, seemingly oblivious to the often busy and noisy surroundings. The long takes of "Dream Rooms" seek to lay bare the effects of technologically mediated intimacy and chronic multitasking. Questions arise: Are we being rewired by our relationship to interactive media? And how does the idea of surveillance alter our experience of these individuals? Each character is intimately examined in public space, comfortably anonymous and secure in the privacy of his or her thoughts and behavior, while the gaze of the camera records impulses and reactions. East Building, Level A, Through Jan. 8, 2017 - "Zanele Muholi: Faces and Phases." featuring 10 photographs by internationally acclaimed South African photographer. An Artist Lecture by Muholi will be offered on Oct. 6, at 7pm in the East Building, SECU Auditorium. Free; ticket required. Exhibition and lecture made possible by Cyma Rubin Photography Fund. East Building, North Carolina Gallery, Through Feb. 12, 2017 - "Panorama: North Carolina". In this exhibit, the Old North State is the subject of over 30 photographs, lovingly created by North Carolina-based artists. These works from the North Carolina Museum of Art's permanent collection interpret the subject matter in varied ways. Some images, like Elizabeth Matheson's "Edenton" and Luis Rey Velasco's "Stovall", present specific towns or landmarks. Other photographs represent the soul of the state via portraits of its inhabitants, as in Rob Amberg's "Carter Crosby, Highway 24 South, Clinton, NC" and Jeff Whetstone's "Mingo Boys with Water Snake on the Eno River". A third grouping—a barren tree in winter, some lovingly tended gravestones—provides quiet reflection through still-life scenes. Combined, these images tell a story of the state as captured in black and white. A segment of "Panorama: North Carolina" features works from David Simonton's Polk Prison Project. The former Polk Youth Center, which occupied land adjacent to the Museum, was closed in 1997. Before the building was demolished in 2003, Simonton received access to the prison and captured interesting details of that space. Five images from this series, which was partially commissioned by the North Carolina Museum of Art, are included in the exhibition. East Building, Photography Gallery, Through Feb. 26, 2017 - "Human/Nature". This exhibit features photographs from the NCMA's permanent collection that relate individuals to both natural and man-made environments. Our primary human instincts drive us to control, dominate, nurture, and find a connection to our surroundings. Each photograph in "Human/Nature" presents the relationship between man and the environment—comparing, for example, a desolate landscape with a similar close-up of the human body. In simple yet profound ways, these images manifest the many ways bodily forms echo forms in nature and drive home the importance of connecting to our habitat in a physical, tangible way. West Building, Through Mar. 19, 2017 - "History and Mystery: Discoveries in the NCMA British Collection," which showcases the best of the NCMA's permanent collection of Old Master British paintings and sculpture from 1580 to 1850. It marks the first time in 40 years that the NCMA has organized an exhibition focused on British art from its collection. Anchoring the exhibition is an extraordinary group of nine Elizabethan and Jacobean aristocratic portraits from about 1580 to 1620. NCMA Park - The North Carolina Museum of Art (NCMA) announces new works of art to be installed in the 164-acre NCMA Park. The works include a bronze tree by Italian artist Giuseppe Penone, a playful pair of benches designed by Hank Willis Thomas, and a 10-day installation of 23-foot-tall illuminated rabbits by Australian artist Amanda Parer. The sculptures will be featured

On the occasion of the expansion, the Museum has acquired more than 100 new works of art. Representing commissions, gifts, and purchases, the new works encompass important and diverse examples of historic and contemporary art from around the world, and will be installed in the Museum's new building and the surrounding landscape. Highlights include a gift of 28 sculptures by Auguste Rodin, and work by such internationally acclaimed artists as Roxy Paine, Ursula von Rydingsvard, El Anatsui, Jaume Plensa, Jackie Ferrara, Ellsworth Kelly, and David Park, among others. Admission: Yes for some exhibits. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 9am-5pm; Sun., 10am-5pm; & open until 9pm on Fri. Contact: 919/839-6262 or at (www.ncartmuseum.org).

North Carolina Museum of History, 5 East Edenton Street, (between Salisbury and Wilmington Streets), Raleigh. Through Dec. 4 - "Scent of the Pine, You Know How I Feel: North Carolina Art from the Jonathan P. Alcott Collection". The exhibit will feature 73 original works that span two centuries and represent all three regions of the Tar Heel State. Through Mar. 5, 2017 - "A March for the Right to Vote: Photographs by Spider Martin". On March 21, 1965, more than 2,000 people crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma, AL., to begin a 54-mile march for African American voting rights and equality. The march ended five days later in Montgomery, where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and his wife, Coretta Scott King, led crowds into Alabama's capital city while singing freedom songs. Spider Martin (1939-2003), a photojournalist with The Birmingham News, walked with the protestors, capturing powerful images that brought international attention to the Civil Rights movement. Ongoing - Featuring exhibits dealing with North Carolina's history as a theme.
