Red Springs Artspace in Red Springs, NC, Features Works by Ray Im

Red Springs Artspace in Red Springs, NC, will present Material Integration II, featuring works by Ray Im, from Dec. 15 through Jan. 26, 2025. A reception will be held on Jan. 10, from 5-8pm.

Ray Im is a Korean-born American lens-based artist and ceramicist. He earned his BFA in Studio Art with a concentration in Photography from Baylor University and an MFA in Ceramics from Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Work by Ray Im

Im blends traditional techniques of ceramics and photography to create a unique presentation in space. While examining the relationship between the two mediums, he offers a fresh perspective on the interplay between tradition and modernity in object and installation settings. He utilizes the German Deadpan style in his photography, giving his images a cool, detached, and emotionless quality, an approach that carries over into his interdisciplinary installation sculptures and pottery works.

Red Springs Artspace is an art gallery located in Red Springs, NC, owned by artists Jeffery Geller and Irina Shin-Geller. The gallery showcases a diverse range of artworks, antiques, and curiosities, providing a platform for local and international artists. With its historic setting and forward-thinking approach, Red Springs Artspace enriches the cultural landscape of its community and beyond. Currently the gallery is open by appointment only.
