Highlands

Detail of work by Will Henry Stevens

The Bascom, a center for the visual arts, 323 Franklin Rd., covered bridge entrance at the end of Main Street, Highlands. Bunzl Gallery, Through Jan. 11 - "From the Lowlands to the Highlands," featuring works by Will Henry Stevens, curated by Michael Manes. Will Henry Stevens' life (1881-1949) began and ended in a small riverboat community along the Ohio River, but the years between spent in New Orleans and Western North Carolina were defined by his tireless pursuit of a visual language for his vast creative energy. His enduring curiosity about the natural world, and his belief that there was a purpose – a design – in nature, led him effortlessly between representational and abstraction as he freely adjusted both style and medium to convey nature's essence. In this spirit, "From the Lowlands to the Highlands" includes both landscapes and abstracts capturing the two regions closest to the artist's heart, the Louisiana bayou and the Appalachian Mountains. The artist was drawn to "humble" scenes such as log cabins, cemeteries, and the mountaineers of Western North Carolina, as well as the bayou and common people of Louisiana. This monumental exhibition will showcase Stevens' love for nature, his understanding and proficiency with color, materials, and composition, and how two very different environments shaped the career of a Southern Modernist. Thompson Gallery, Through Jan. 4 - "Feel the Heal: Community Partner Exhibition." The exhibition offers many different artistic interpretations of human resiliency including illness, loss, and grief. "The Feel the Heal" initiative is based on the belief that art has the power to heal, inspire, provoke, and challenge. This initiative raises awareness about how art is a catalyst for positive change and enhances the wellbeing of individuals, society, and the environment through artists' creativity. This exhibition will give "Heartists" an opportunity to share their journey with all those who visit The Bascom. Education Gallery, Ongoing - The Bascom offers our students and instructors an opportunity to display their creative works from workshops and classes. The perspectives of these talented individuals reveal self-expression, cultural awareness and technical discipline.
