Gibbes Museum of Art, 135 Meeting Street, Charleston. Through Apr. 30 - "Painting the Southern Coast: The Art of West Fraser". West Fraser has built his career on richly painted, atmospheric vistas of cities, coasts, and the landscape throughout the United States and internationally-from the pristine Sea Islands of South Carolina and Georgia, to the hill towns of Tuscany. Painting the Southern Coast features approximately 25 paintings drawn from public and private collections throughout the country and offers insight into Fraser's working process through the inclusion of several studies displayed alongside finished works. A catalog of the exhibition is available for purchase. Galleries 2 and 3, Through Apr. 23 - "Painting a Nation: Hudson River School Landscapes from the Higdon Collection". Assembled with a discerning eye for quality, the private collection of Ann and Lee Higdon includes superb examples of Hudson River School paintings, the first native school of painting in the United States. The majority of the works depict serene scenes of New York state and the northeast region, though several works, such as Albert Bierstadt's Cathedral Rocks, "A View of Yosemite", ca. 1872, go farther afield. Together, these paintings celebrate the picturesque beauty of our nation and reflect the collective desire of the Hudson River painters to develop a uniquely American visual language, independent of European schools of painting. Gallery 8, Through Apr. 30 - "History, Labor, Life: The Prints of Jacob Lawrence". provides a comprehensive overview of influential American artist Jacob Lawrence's (1917-2000) printmaking oeuvre, produced from 1963 to 2000. Lawrence started exploring printmaking as an already well-established artist. Printmaking suited his bold formal and narrative style exceptionally well. The relationship between his painting and printmaking were intertwined, with the artist revisiting and remaking earlier paintings as prints. The exhibition explores three major themes that occupied the artist's graphic works. Lawrence was primarily concerned with the narration of African-American experiences and histories. His acute observations of community life, work, struggle and emancipation during his lifetime were rendered alongside vividly imagined chronicles of the past. The past and present in his practice are intrinsically linked, providing insight into the social, economic and political realities that continue to impact and shape contemporary society today. Museum Shop - Now offering the inventory of the Tradd Street Press, reproductions of works by Elizabeth O'Neill Verner among other exhibit related art objects. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm; closed Mon. Admission: Yes. Contact: 843/722-2706 or at (www.gibbesmuseum.org).

"Easy Lady" by West Fraser

Halsey Institute of Contemporary Art, The Marion and Wayland H. Cato Jr. Center for the Arts, College of Charleston School of the Arts, 161 Calhoun St., Charleston. Through Mar. 4 - "EXIT / ALIVE: The Art of Anthony Dominguez," gathers a substantial body of art produced by Anthony Dominguez over 20 years leading up to his untimely death in 2014, curated by Guest Curator Tom Patterson. Conceived as a definitive overview, the exhibition brings together a representative sampling of works by this philosophically uncompromising, intentionally homeless artist, an idiosyncratic figure on the margins of society and the art world. Through Mar. 4 - "Ahead of the Wrecking Ball: Ronald Ramsey and the Preservation of Charleston". For the last several decades, native Charlestonian Ronald Wayne Ramsey has focused on meticulously documenting historical buildings—particularly those slated for demolition—in his hometown. As old buildings in the historically-minded city become condemned and readied for demolition, he secrets himself inside and liberates various seemingly mundane objects from their impending destruction. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 11am-4pm and open till 7pm on Thurs. Contact: Mark Sloan at 843/953-4422 or at (www.halsey.cofc.edu).

The Charleston Museum, 360 Meeting Street, Charleston. Founded in 1773, is America's first museum. Through May 8 - "Feathers and Flocks: Waterfowling in South Carolina, a collective look at the historic art and artifacts associated with local waterfowling, presented in cooperation with the 2017 Southeastern Wildlife Expo, and with generous sponsorship from the "Charleston Mercury". This exhibit will draw from a number of different categories from the Museum's vast collections as well as a few private ones, and offer an important glimpse into the South Carolina Lowcountry's long-standing water bird traditions. Through Apr. 2 - "Snow Days in Charleston: The Great Blizzard of 1899," an exhibit curated by Archivist and Collections Manager, Jennifer McCormick. The photographs in this new exhibit will feature images from the "Great Blizzard of 1899." For two weeks in February, a massive snow storm swept across the United States. Also referred to as the "Great Arctic Outbreak of 1899," this storm of snow and ice brought bone-chilling cold from the Arctic that lasted from Feb. 6 - 14, 1899. Ongoing - Featuring the most extensive collection of South Carolina cultural and scientific collections in the nation, it also owns two National Historic Landmark houses, the Heyward-Washington House (1772) and the Joseph Manigault House (1803), as well as the Dill Sanctuary, a 580-acre wildlife preserve. Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 9am-5pm & Sun., 1-5pm. Contact: 843/722-2996 or at (www.charlestonmuseum.org).
