The Light Factory, 1817 Central Avenue, Charlotte. Through Mar. 13 - "A Shared Elegy," presents two pairs of photographers connected by family ties. Osamu James Nakagawa and his uncle, Takayuki Ogawa, and Elijah Gowin and his father, Emmet Gowin, present unique but overlapping visions recording family histories. Nakagawa, like his uncle, Ogawa, grew up in Japan and draws upon his country's traditions and the practice of honoring elders; family heritage and home in Virginia have inspired the Gowins to make photographs that depict the intimate and hallowed nature of the world. These photographs compel us to reflect and consider our place in the cycle of life. A reception will be held on Jan. 16, from 6:30-8:30pm. Hours: Wed.-Sat., noon-6pm or by request. Contact: 704/333-9755 or at (www.lightfactory.org).

Cullowhee

Work by Kit Paulson

Fine Art Museum, Fine & Performing Arts Center, Western Carolina University, Cullowhee. Through Mar. 20 - "52nd Annual Juried Undergraduate Exhibition". Through May 1 - "Curious Terrain: WNC from the Air". A reception will be held on Mar. 19, from 5-7pm. This new exhibition features aerial photographs that explore the relationship between humans and the WNC landscape. Taken by Alex S. MacLean, a renowned artist and pilot with over 45 years of experience photographing the land from the birds-eye perspective of an airplane, these newly commissioned images focus on the seven westernmost counties of North Carolina. Through May 1 - "Time and Again: Glass Works by Kit Paulson and SaraBeth Post". Funded in part by the Art Alliance for Contemporary Glass, the exhibition brings together two Penland-based artists—Kit Paulson and SaraBeth Post—whose works explore ideas about time, history, memory, and the antique. In many of their works, objects from the past are remade and reimagined in glass, creating a bridge between past and present. Both of the artists featured in "Time and Again" are active in the glass community in Western North Carolina. Paulson, who holds an MFA from Southern Illinois University and is in her second year of a three-year residency at Penland School of Craft, specializes in torchworked glass. Post has a degree in glass from the University of Louisville and is pursuing a two-year work-study opportunity as one of Penland's Core Fellows. She uses a casting technique to recreate childhood objects in glass. Through May 1 - "Claire Van Vliet: Stone and Sky". This new exhibition highlights landscape prints by Claire Van Vliet, a renowned printmaker and book artist. Between 1993 and 2010, Van Vliet completed several residencies at Harvey Littleton Studios in Spruce Pine, NC, where she experimented with the medium of vitreography, a form of printmaking that uses a glass plate to produce a printed image. Fascinated by rocks of all kinds, Van Vliet produced detailed images of rock formations from around the world, including Wind Cave in New Mexico, Kilclooney More in Ireland, and the Moeraki Coast in New Zealand. This exhibition brings together a selection of these vitreographs, drawn from the WCU Fine Art Museum's Permanent Collection, and provides a glimpse into the artist's creative process. The exhibition includes a rare opportunity to view one of the original glass plates used in the vitreograph printing process. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 10am-4pm & Sat., 1-4pm. Contact: 828/227-3591 or at (<https://www.wcu.edu/bardo-arts-center/fine-art-museum/>).

Work by Bryan Collier

North Carolina Central University Museum of Art, 1801 Fayetteville Street, across from the Farrison-Newton Communications Building on the campus of NCCU, Durham. Through Apr. 17 - "You Can't Outgrow a Picture Book," presents an exhibit of works by Bryan Collier, author and children's book illustrator, curated by Christine M. Perry, Art Production Specialist at North Carolina Central University Art Museum. The exhibition consists of over thirty-nine original works by Collier. The exhibit is a visual smorgasbord featuring a plethora of color, shapes and patterns as Collier displays his signature use of watercolor and collage. Through the use of fabrics, textures and tones, Collier tells stories of many salient moments in black history, as well as everyday life. Ongoing - Permanent collection focuses on African American art of the 19th & 20th century, including works by Edward Mitchell Bannister, Henry Ossawa Tanner, Romare Bearden, Jacob Lawrence, Elizabeth Catlett, and Norman Lewis. As well as more contemporary works by Sam Gilliam, Richard Hunt, William Artis, and Kerry James Marshall. The museum's annual schedule of activities includes temporary exhibits of works from other museums, various retrospectives, and faculty and student art shows. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 9am-4:30pm & Sun., 1-4pm. Contact: 919/560-6211.

Power Plant Gallery at ATC, 318 Blackwell St Durham. Ongoing - The Power Plant Gallery is an off-site extension of the arts at Duke, promoting visual arts engagement with students, faculty and visitors from Durham and beyond. With 1,500 square feet of exhibition space, the gallery is equipped to exhibit a range of media, from photography and painting to video and installation.

Featuring a rotating program of work by Duke students, faculty, and visiting scholars, as well as locally, nationally and internationally recognized artists, the gallery is a new and exciting addition to the growing, vibrant Durham art scene. The Nasher Museum of Art, Duke University Central Campus, 2001 Campus Drive, Durham. Through Mar. 1 - "Cosmic Rhythmic Vibrations". This exhibition highlights works from the Nasher Museum collection that engage visual and musical rhythm. Rhythm may be expressed through repeated patterns of color, form or movement, or, in other cases, implied sound and dance. Whether they embody a beat or a swing, these works carry a pulse that helps guide the viewer through time and space. As wide-ranging objects that reference the power of rhythm and music to transcend earthly concerns, collectively they become cosmic in their vast reach and otherworldly magnetism. Through May 27 - "Odili Donald Odita Murals". As part of Nasher10, a celebration of the first decade and beyond, the Nasher Museum commissioned two large-scale murals by abstract painter Odili Donald Odita. His wall painting inside the Nasher Museum's Mary D.B.T. Semans Great Hall, Shadow and Light (For Julian Francis Abele), is inspired by the African-American architect who designed most of Duke's campus. Odita's wall painting visually connects the Nasher Museum to downtown Durham, where he painted a second mural on the Foster Street wall of the Downtown Durham YMCA, 218 W. Morgan Street. Through July 12 - "Ebony G. Patterson . . . while the dew is still on the roses . . ." presents the work of artist Ebony G. Patterson, born in Jamaica in 1981. This is the most significant exhibition of the artist's work to date, presented within a new installation environment that evokes a night garden. Patterson is known for drawings, tapestries, videos, sculptures and installations that involve surfaces layered with flowers, glitter, lace and beads. Her work investigates forms of embellishment as they relate to youth culture within disenfranchised communities. Her neo-baroque works address violence, masculinity, "bling," visibility and invisibility within the post-colonial context of her native Kingston and within black youth culture globally. This exhibition focuses on the role that gardens have played in her practice, referenced as spaces of both beauty and burial, environments filled with fleeting aesthetics and mourning. Ongoing - Nasher Museum Café and Museum Shop. Admission: Yes, but free to Durham residents, courtesy of "The Herald-Sun" newspaper. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Thur. till 9pm; & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 919/684-5135 or at (www.nasher.duke.edu).
