Through encounters with creatures both tame and wild, Rich developed a fascination and a compassion for animals integral to her art. Ongoing - The Asheville Quilt Guild features a permanent, rotating quilt exhibit at Arboretum's Education Center. Blowing Rock

Work by Elliott Daingerfield

Blowing Rock Art and History Museum, corner of Chestnut and Main streets, downtown Blowing Rock. Through May 14 - "Recent Acquisitions to BRAHM's Permanent Collection." The exhibition highlights 16 artworks including gifts and promised gifts to the Permanent Collection. "Recent Acquisitions" presents new additions to BRAHM's vault in light of some of the different ways objects might come into a museum's collection as well as the responsibility of care that an institution undertakes when accepting such objects. BRAHM's expansion of the Permanent Collection has largely been accomplished through the generosity of art collectors who have donated or promised artworks that align with the scope of the Museum's mission. Cannon Gallery, Through May 7 - "Geometry with Feeling: Ida Kohlmeyer in Two & Three Dimensions". The exhibit features the work of Ida Kohlmeyer (1912-1997), most recognized for her role in the vanguard of abstract painting in the American South. BRAHM is pleased to be exhibiting examples of her two and three-dimensional work in our Atwell Gallery in the Fall of 2022. Taking up the brush during middle age, Kohlmeyer quickly developed a distinctive vocabulary of organic and geometric forms that she deployed with irrepressibly bright colors. While abstract expressionist painting is now fully integrated into the canon of American art, it was a controversial turn for an emerging New Orleans artist in the 1950s and 1960s. Fort Gallery, Through May 28 - "POP-UP: Andy Warhol & the Portrait Impulse". The exhibition highlights 96 Polaroids, 27 black and white prints, and 6 silkscreens generously loaned from the Permanent Collection of the Turchin Center for the Visual Arts at Appalachian State University, courtesy of a gift by the Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts. Photography and its potential for experimental portraiture is foundational across Andy Warhol's prolific career. In "POP-UP", Warhol's commitment to instant film as a candid documentary medium is explored alongside examples of his iconic silkscreen prints. Synthesizing the photographic, the painterly, and the commercial, the artist's manipulation of the human visage constitutes some of his most lasting impacts on contemporary photography and image-making. In this exhibition, we see Warhol's near-obsessive use of the camera - the Polaroid in particular - some examples of which would ultimately be transformed into the high contrast, color blocked images audiences are so familiar with today. Ongoing - the BRAHM will host exhibits, educational programs and classes that promote the visual arts, history and heritage of the mountains of western North Carolina. Admission: Yes. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-4pm. Contact: 828/295-9099 or at (www.blowingrockmuseum.org).

Work by Renee Cloud

Turchin Center for the Visual Arts, Appalachian State University, 423 West King Street, Boone. Hodges Gallery, Through June 3 - "FLUX: Signe Stuart". A reception will be held on Mar. 3, from 5-9pm. Stuart says, "Flux alludes to natural and manmade networks from rivers, neural pathways and quantum fields to systems of transportation and communications, everything interconnected and in flux.

My visual vocabulary emphasizes line: single lines emerging from material; low relief line patterns forming flux fields and networks of relationships. Recent cut paper works, drawing/sculpture hybrids, generally consist of 2 or more overlapping panels hung away from the wall to create shadows. The cut paper works have evolved into achronic works, unintentionally referencing the unified field theory of everything. Light is an auxiliary medium, creating subtle and changing thresholds between the visible and invisible." Community Gallery, Through June 3 - Say:Word, a site-specific installation by Renee Cloud & de'Angelo DIA. "Say:Word" is visual dialogue between artists de'Angelo DIA and Renee Cloud. This multimedia collaboration is a hybrid of exhibits, "Not Another Word" and "Dichotomy," used to examine misrepresentation, cultural appropriation, and the significance of cultivating your own narrative and distribution of those narratives. The artists' visual and poetic words are a reflection of excavated intimate and public conversations, journal entries, and social media debates.

This exhibition title, "Say:Word" represents the numerous questions raised when presented with shocking or almost unbelievable narratives and statements. The title serves as a rhetorical question, challenging the viewers to consider, "if we are processing the same reality, how are we coming to a diversity of conclusions?" Gallery B, Through May 6 - "Altered Environments / Tidalectics: April Flanders, Guest Curator". "Altered Environments", curated by April Flanders, is a printmaking portfolio responding to the issue of marine bio invasions. The portfolio includes 23 national and international artists from diverse backgrounds, utilizing a wide range of styles and print techniques. Marine bio invasions are the conceptual starting place for these prints, which will be prominently exhibited at the 11th International Marine Bioinvasions Conference in Annapolis, MD in 2023. Aquatic invasive species are a true threat to biodiversity around the world. Artists were encouraged to consider the many ecosystems that are currently under threat from marine bioinvasions. Participating artists include: Alanna Baird, Lorraine Beaulieu, Mary Sherwood Brock, Paterson Clark, Tallmadge Doyle, Beth Fein, April Flanders, Sheila Goloborok, Melissa Harshman, Marty Ittner, Fleming Jeffries, Anita Jung, Irena Keckes, Eveline Kolijn, Lauren Kussro, Ann Manuel, Sandra Murchison, Michelle Rozic, Marilee Salvador, Rachel Singel, Tanja Softic, Julie Wolfe, Elizabeth Jean Younce, and Ann Zellhofer/Caroline Zellhofer. In conjunction with "Altered Environments", printmaker and installation artist, Marilee Salvador will create a site-specific installation. "Tidalectics", organized by Dutch-Canadian artist Eveline Kolijn, is an art-science portfolio based around an experiment to create an oceanic worldview. Ten international printmakers collaborated with marine biology researchers to create a print based on the research from the scientist for the portfolio. Gallery A, Through May 6 - "Thin Places: Kiliii Yuyan". Yuyan says, "I will always remember those nights with the burning, glowing embrace of the fireflies. In the space around my body, they floated like a thousand miniature green-yellow lanterns, blazing long enough to be seen, but gone quickly enough to escape my cupped hands. It's embedded in me to see the fireflies as spirit beings here. I've never met a person who hasn't felt their otherworldly nature. Indeed, my Indigenous ancestors referred to wild creatures as 'men in other shirts'. For animistic peoples, our world is inhabited by spirits, which only reveal themselves in particular circumstances or places. But somehow, I think, we all feel this regardless of where we come from." Mayer Gallery, Through May 6 - "Transformations: App DigiFab," featuring works by Adam Adcock, Andrew Bailey Arend, Travis Donovan, Derek Eggers, Richard Elaver, Frankie Flood, Chelsea Helms, Mark Nystrom, Andres Tellez, and Nicole Villarreal. An exhibition of new design and art works showcasing experimental applications of computer-aided design and fabrication technologies. Digital design and fabrication technologies have radically transformed the way artists and designers conceive and produce work. This exhibition explores how digital tools for design and fabrication are being utilized and taught by contemporary artists, designers, and architects, and how those tools influence the work being produced in various fields. A group of faculty and staff from Appalachian State University have come together to exhibit their new work using these digital tools in unique ways. Hours: Mon.-Thur., 10am-6pm; Fri., noon-8pm; & Sat., 10am-6pm. Contact: 828/262-3017 or at (www.turchincenter.org).
