ALTERNATE ART SPACES - Pittsboro JimGin Farm, 150 Wild Horse Run, Pittsboro. Sept. 4, 11, 18, & 25, 2021, from 2pm until dark - "20th Come Out & Play" sculpture show. Last year, we held it virtually but this year it returns to on-site with all sorts of safety measures. We will ask attendees to wear a mask when they enter the house to see the 2D work there and when getting food in the outdoor food tent. There will be plenty of hand sanitizer, and of course, most of the incredible artwork is outside, spread over the 17-acre property. There are receptions every Saturday in September, and we are starting them a bit earlier, at 2pm, to help spread out comings and goings of all you wonderful art lovers. The show was started in 2002 to honor those affected by 9/11 and that mission stays true with the added mission of connecting people through art and promoting kindness in the world. For further info visit (www.comeoutandplay.info). Directions - West from Carrboro, go out Jones Ferry Road. Measuring from the light at Willow Creek Shopping Plaza, go 5 and 3/4 miles then turn left onto Wild Horse Run, a gravel drive marked by a street sign. There are Come Out and Play banners at the street entrance. Follow the drive until it ends at JimGin Farm. Parking is on the right after passing through the wooden gate.

North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. Sept. 4 - Feb. 13, 2022 - "NC Artist Connections: The Beautiful Project, Stephen Hayes, and Hồng-An Truong". For decades the NCMA has provided art education, inspiration, and free access to its People's Collection to generations of North Carolinians. For artists the Museum has been a particularly special place as a space for study and experimentation and a guide for burgeoning careers. In this exhibition the NCMA highlights three artists who present new and reconceived works of art with themes that link to important works in the Museum collection. In connecting the NCMA to local contemporary artists, the exhibition helps visitors experience the NCMA's collection in new ways while gaining a deeper understanding of the artists' ongoing relationships to these works, as well as how the work of other artists relates to their practice. Sept. 25 - Ongoing - "Break the Mold: New Takes on Traditional Art Making". North Carolina Museum of History, 5 East Edenton Street, (between Salisbury and Wilmington Streets), Raleigh. Through Jan. 2, 2022 - "Are We There Yet? North Carolina's Variety Vacationland, 1930s-1970s". This photography exhibit will invite visitors to take a look back, at an era when tourism boomed thanks largely to a state-run marketing effort called "Variety Vacationland." The Variety Vacationland campaign was successful in creating a unified tourism industry in North Carolina from the 1930s to the 1970s by depicting our state as both modern and progressive, but with strong ties to its past. True to the Jim Crow era, however, most sites promoted were marketed (and accessible) only to White tourists; people of color were neglected and even exploited at times, an attitude this exhibit attempts to point out where possible. Ongoing - Featuring exhibits dealing with North Carolina's history as a theme. Sweet Tea & Cornbread Grill and Eatery, located on the R Level, open Mon.-Sat., from 11am to 3pm.
